Living Room/ Lounge/ Common Areas

Recommended Types:

Textured cut pile, wool, or plush carpets

Why:

These spaces are designed for comfort and connection—whether it's a cozy living room at home, a lounge in the office, or a mosque's common area. These carpet types offer a soft feel underfoot while being durable enough to handle regular traffic.

Tip:

For a balanced look, choose warm neutral tones for homes, elegant patterns for office lounges, and classic designs for mosque spaces.

Bedroom/ Private Room/ Imam's Room

Recommended Types:

Saxony, velvet, or high-pile carpets

Why:

These rooms prioritize comfort, calmness, and quiet. High-pile or velvet carpets provide a lush and luxurious feel, ideal for personal bedrooms, office rest zones, or private areas in mosques like the imam's room.

Tip:

Stick with soft textures and calming colors like beige, grey, or muted blues to create a peaceful atmosphere across any setting.

Kids' Room/ Play Area/ Nursery

(Home or Mosque)

Recommended Types:

Nylon, polypropylene, or printed loop pile carpets

Why:

These are highly durable, stain-resistant, and easy to clean—perfect for playful and active environments, whether in a child's room at home, a family-friendly office zone, or a mosque nursery.

Tip:

Bright patterns keep the space fun and engaging, while soft materials cushion falls and reduce noise.

Kitchen/ Pantry/ Tea Room

(Home or Office)

Recommended Types:

Flat-weave, low-pile, or washable rugs

Why:

Kitchens and pantry areas need moisture-resistant and easy-to-clean options. These carpets are functional in a home setting, practical in office pantries, and helpful near refreshment areas in mosques.

Tip:

Avoid thick carpets—opt for washable, anti-slip mats that handle spills well and dry quickly.
